PROHIBITION LEADER VISITS CAMPUS THIS WEEK

Miss Lockerman Delivers Address To Students on Tuesday Morning.

The students of G. S. C. were most fortunate in having Miss Ruth Lockerman, the representative of the National Prohibition Association, visit the campus Monday and Tuesday. Miss Lockerman was graduated from Winthrop in 1928 and has been doing this college work for the past two years.

Monday, Miss Lockerman spoke to the Economics and Sociology classes on "The Why and Efforts of Prohibition in the Nation." Her talks were all interesting and were not in the least sensational but her enthusiasm and broad perspective gripped her audiences.

Tuesday morning, during the chapel hour, Miss Lockerman gave a most interesting and instructive talk on "Why we, as College Students, Should Know Something about Prohibition." She stated that a basic knowledge of prohibition is necessary to make well informed teachers, individuals, and citizens. She not only convinced the students of the truth of this statement but gave many thoughts as a working basis.

Miss Lockerman also spoke most interestingly to the "Y" Cabinet, Monday afternoon. She is one of the best informed and most interesting persons to visit our campus.

LATIN CLUB PRESENTS PROGRAM ATA CHAPEL

2000th Anniversary of Birth of Virgil Celebrated on Campus October 15th.

On October 15 the Latin Club presented at the chapel hour a program commemorating the 2000 anniversary of the birth of Virgil. Dr. Frances Daniels opened the program by reading the Scripture in Latin. Following the Scripture the Lord's Prayer was repeated in Latin by the club. The members of the club also sang a hymn in Latin.

Dr. Daniels told in English the story of the birth of Virgil and gave a detailed summary of the life of the poet. Tennyson's poem on Virgil was then read by Louise Whaley, who by the tones of her voice denoted the scansion of the verse.

Miss Anna Klomburg, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Allen, rendered two beautiful violin numbers. Following the music Sara Wofford, president of the Latin Club favored the audience with a reading.

The program was closed by a benediction repeated in Latin by the members of the Latin Club.

Milledgeville, Ga., Oct. 14.—The Atlanta Journal has this week been added to the list of publications that are placed in each of the dormitories at G. S. C. W. for the use of the students. There are ten dormitories, all of which receive in addition to the Atlanta Journal, the Macon Telegraph and News, Milledgeville Times, Union Recorder, Literary Digest, Time, and Current History. The students also have access to these and other foremost newspapers and magazines in the library.

DR. FLOYD SPEAKS ON PASSION PLAY

Story of the Christ as Portrayed at Oberammergau Told at Vesper Service.

Dr. Juanita Floyd spoke Sunday night on the Passion Play, given at Oberammergau last summer, at the Vesper services held in the auditorium of the Georgia State College for Women. Dr. Floyd visited Germany this summer and was in Oberammergau during the presentation of the play. She stated that passion plays are not at all uncommon in the little German cities, and in a very interesting manner told how the poor peasants of Oberammergau, years ago stricken with the plague that swept through the country, vowed to perform every ten years the part of their Master's life in memory of His Passion, should they be delivered from this terrible menace. It is said that after making the vow not a single peasant died from the plague although were ill with it at the time.

No professional actors are allowed to take part in the play. The entire performance, music and dramatization, which lasts eight hours of the day, were all composed and written by natives of the village. Every one save the married women and people who only recently have resided there are given some part in the play. Beautiful robes, celestial music, and talented and well-trained acting are characteristics of the famous play given in the huge open auditorium in the simple little village.

Dr. Floyd who has traveled extensively and who is a connoisseur of beauty, described vividly to the students the experiences of a visitor in the quaint old town of Oberammergau.

COLUMBUS EDITOR VISITS DR. BEESON

Interesting guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Beeson at the mansion on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Dixon, of Columbus, Ga., and Rev. J. Flourney Crook, Editor of the Columbus Ledger Enterprise.

In the years of long ago, Mr. Crook and Dr. Beeson were instructors of the University of Alabama, the one in English and the other in Physics. They were room mates also. Through all the intervening years they had never met until Sunday.

Mr. Crook has always been an Editor and has traveled broadly. In the Spanish American War he was Lieutenant under Capt. Joseph E. Pottle, of Milledgeville. He went overseas during the World War as a worker in the Y. W. C. A.

LUNCHEON OPENS CAMPAIGN

Initial impetus was given the $300,000 Agnes Scott building completion campaign at a College luncheon in the Gymnasium at noon September 20.

Attended by the entire student body and faculty, the luncheon took the form of an enthusiastic campaign rally. Numerous speeches boosting the movement for raising the remaining funds were made, and the affair took on the spirit of "following through" in the same manner that the College drive was carried on two years ago.

MISS MOORELAND SPEAKS TO HISTORY CLUB

National Secretary of League of Women Voters Spends Day on Campus.

The History Club at its second meeting entertained on Monday, October 13, at a reception held at the Mansion in honor of Miss Hilda Moorhead, an officer of the League of Women Voters.

Dr. Johnson introduced the speaker, Miss Moorhead, who spoke on, "Why Politic Demand a Woman's Viewpoint."

"Politics need a woman's viewpoint." The work of the woman of the past has been taken out of the home and put into industry; therefore, women needs to go into the world." Later in her speech she said, "Men can care for the mechanical parts of government but women must take the lead in social and economic problems."

MERIWETHER COUNTY EDITOR TELLS OF VISIT TO THIS CITY

Henry H. Revil Visits G. S. C. W. and State Hospital and Gives Account in Vindicator

Henry H. Revil, editor of the Meriwether, Vindicator, recently spent the day in this city, and visited the G. S. C. W. and State Sanitarium. In the last issue of his paper he had the following:

Went down to the Georgia State College for Women at Milledgeville Saturday. Great school—none better. The Meriwether Club was putting on a program of history and our charming daughters were telling about the famous home county. Will give more in detail about it next week. We are proud of our Meriwether girls. Worthy they are of their mother county and always proud of her as she is of them. I arrived just in time to be called upon to talk a few minutes about Meriwether and was presented to the audience by my own Little Tot, who, as chairman, was presiding.

"Twas a pleasure and gave a thrill never experienced before. The Freshman class several hundred strong was as fine a gathering of young ladies as human eye ever beheld.

This college is turning out real womanhood and no snobs. I am going to have a great deal more to say about the subject later. I had the honor of dining with Dr. Beeson and his charming wife, while at Milledgeville. They live in the old mansion in which our early governors abode. Rich architectural beauty, the interior work executed by the most skillful hands, and its walls reeking with historic interest, this ancient structure is a gem of antiquity and history. As a Georgian I was proud to stand and gaze at its beauty and muse o'er its past.

Georgia is indeed fortunate in having as presidents of this school three jam-ups, if you will excuse an expression which more than any other typifies my views. The efficient and capable Chappell, the incomparable and lamented Parks and

FINANCE COMMITTEE PRESENTS BUDGET

Clever Skit Presented at Chapel on Friday Morning, Before Student Body.

The Finance Committee of the Y. W. C. A. had charge of Chapel exercises Friday, October 17, at which time the Y budget for 1930-31 was presented to the student body.

Miss Paunce Rigsby of Cairo, led the devotional and introduced the skit which presented the budget to the students. The skit solemnized the wedding of Mr. Budgett and Miss Y. W. C. A. The cast was as follows:

Bride: Miss Y. W. C. A.—Vera Hunt, Cedartown.

Groom, Mr. Budget—Mary Rogers, Gainesville.

Best Man: Mr. Student Body—Anne Grimes, Montgomery, Ala.

Minister, Rev. G. S. C. W.—Bobby Burns, Fitzgerald.

Bridesmaids: Miss Social—Carolyn Combs, Washington.

Miss Religion—Catherine Elrod, White.

Groomsmen: Mr. Student Pledge—Dorothy Smith, Milledgeville.

Mr. Faculty Pledge—Lucile Harvey, Hogansville.

Bride's father: Mr. Y. W. C. A.—Mannie George Mahone, Newnan.

Stranger—Christine Dekle, Milledgeville.

The play was written by Miss Mary Snow Johnson of Atlanta.

After the presentation of the skit, the Y. W. C. A. budget for 1930-31 was presented by Miss Mary Rogers of Gainesville, Chairman of the Finance Committee. Pledge cards were passed out and collected.

The Finance Committee of the Y Sponsored the play.

EDUCATION CLUB CREATES SCHOLARSHIP FUND.

The Education Club of the Georgia State College for Women reorganized this week for the fall term with the membership totaling one hundred six. This club is one of the outstanding clubs on the campus. Last year, it sponsored the programs for education week and began a scholarship fund for students at the college, besides continuing work on the educational museum of the school.

The officers of this year are; president, Nora Ethel English, of Griffin; vice-president, Norma Dunaway, of Americus; secretary, Virginia Kenan, of Statesboro; and treasurer, Dorothy Dunaway, of Americus. The faculty advisor for the club is Dr. Euri Belle Bolton; the advisor for the program committee is Dr. George Harris Webster, head of the education department.

the present Beeson, a combination of both of his predecessors, a man of strong common sense, business capacity and scholarly perfection. Mrs. Beeson, a lady of rare charms and a mind bright like unto a sunbeam, is a fitting helpmate to her husband president.

Delightful day we spent in this rare old history Georgia town, the ancient capital.

LYCEUM COURSE OPENS OCTOBER 22

Nine Numbers Announced for Season at G. S. C. Noted Baritone to Open Lyceum

What is believed to be the best course ever offered at the Georgia State College for Women for the lyceum season will open on October 22nd. Nine numbers have been selected while others will be chosen later, presenting a series of high class entertainments.

The program already announced is as follows:

Herbert Gould, basso-cantante, a singer with one of the most beautiful voices in America. He has had years of experience in concert, oratorio, and operatic work, having appeared with some of the most prominent companies in the country. This number comes on October 22 and will be the first one of the course.

The second number is a costume recital by B. L. Granville, a distinguished English actor. Mr. Granville will give in costume and make-up the principal characters from the dramas of all times.

Charles Crawford Gorst (The Bird Man) will give us again one of his delightful entertainments. Mr. Gorst has been with us several times and his illustrated lecture entertainments are looked forward to with great anticipation.

Princess Der Ling, a Chinese princess who served in the Court of the Empress Dowager as a lady-in-waiting, will lecture on the woman of China.

The Adanac Male quartet will also appear as one of the numbers on the course.

The Cherniavsky Brothers, three artists, one a pianist, another a violinist, and the other a cellist, will give us a delightful entertainment of music.

The Scottish Concert Company will present a program of Scottish humor, songs, and dances.

Gay McLaren "The only artist of her kind in America," will appear in a re-creation of famous plays and stars. Miss McLaren is one of the most unique and interesting of the Lyceum performers.

Lura Forbes, an impersonator of modern, everyday people, is also on the course.

HOUSEHOLD SCIENCE CLUB ORGANIZED ON CAMPUS

State Leaders Visit Campus and Assist in Organizing Club of Students.

The Household Science Department was honored by two visitors from the Home Economics Convention in Macon, Miss Epsie Campbell, state supervisor of vocational Home Economics and Miss Edith Thomas, director of vocational Home Economics education in the South.

The Home Economics Club has reorganized this year with the following officers: Dixie Neal president; Louise Lowe treasurer; Mabel Underwood, secretary. Anyone interested in this type of work is eligible for membership. The social life of the club began with a party in Ennis basement Friday afternoon.

ENGLISH CLUB MEETS

The English Club will meet in room 20 Arts Building, Saturday evening October 18, at seven o'clock. A very interesting program will be presented. The club is rapidly growing in interest and many new members are being enrolled. Under the leadership of Dr. Hunter, the members expect much profit and enjoyment from this year's work. The program for Saturday is as follows:

Dialogue, "Procrastination"—Alena Hanlon and Margaret Pearce.
Vocal solo—Evelyn Coleman.
Parody, "Romeo and Juliet"
Cast of characters:
Mary Yates—Romeo
Clara Bedillion—Albion
Evelyn Williamson—Perdita
Neta Will Hoss, Virginia Duaway, curtain.

CHEMISTRY CLUB ORGANIZES

The Majors and Minors in Chemistry have organized a new club. This recent organization not only gives the girls an opportunity to become better acquainted but also a broader view of the field of Chemical education clubbing, making it a social as well as an educational club. We met in Government Square Park last Friday afternoon for a picnic supper and the purpose of organization.

The officers chosen were:
Miriam Rustin, of Meigs, Ga., president; Irene Cook, of La Grange, Ga., vice-president; Dixie Neal, of Summerville, Ga., secretary and treasurer.

The area of Canada is greater than that of constitutional United States, including Alaska.

Reno Nevada is considerably farther west than Los Angeles.

More miles are obtained from a gallon of gasoline when the car is running at an average speed than when it is run at a high rate of speed. If your gas is getting low it doesn't pay to hurry to the filling station.

DR. MEADOWS ENTERTAINS SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS

To prove that Dr. Meadows indeed meant what he said in chapel about the fun his Bible Study Class was going to have, he took us out to Government Square Park for a picnic, Saturday morning. Gee, it seemed as if the entire student body was a member of our class by the way the girls turned out.

The first entertainment was a treasure hunt which had us all over the park. I bet that Dr. Meadows' class could tell you many things about the grounds that you never dreamed. We explored every hook and crook looking for clues about the missing treasure only to find that it had been snugly reclining in his pocket all the while.

Then we all lined up the hot dogs, marshmallows, doughnuts and drinks. When everybody had toasted the "dogs" and were comfortably seated, Mareo Kaley and Miriam Golden gave special music on guitar and uke.

A very interesting side show was the football game between Paul Meadows and two of our Freshmen. He very successfully beat them although there were two against one.

Dr. Meadows says that this is only a sample of what is to come. He believes in play as well as work. We have planned a very interesting program of both. If you would like to get in on this, come to Bible Study Sunday morning in the Practice School Assembly room.

BIBLE STUDY CLASS HAS PICNIC

"Four o'clock! All set?" "Let's go!" Thus the members of Miss Nora Ethel English's Bible Study Class started out for their first jolly good time together, off in the woods.

Arriving later at the camp site, preparations were quickly made for a fire. In short order the coffee pots were boiling.

A little later, happy cries rose; "One dog is enough to roast at one time, since I'm already roasted and the Weiner still isn't—well, guess I'll eat him raw."

"You must have tried that once before since we've been at G. S. C. cause I heard you bark the other night."

After all eatables were consumed, all the paths had been followed, and half the girls had enjoyed bouncing or sliding down all pine-covered slopes in various graceful positions, we started back, much the worse for wear and good times.

Of course we tried out all the latest tunes, stunts, and games between courses.

After all is said and done, we did have one grand "n" glorious time together. Three cheers for Miss English and more picnics!

Success is made up of four ingredients—inspiration, aspiration, desperation and perspiration—the greatest of these is perspiration.—Samuel G. Blythe.

Dr. Bolton, the First Member of Our Alumnae to Receive Her P.H.D.

From the early age of fourteen years Dr. Eulie Bell Bolton had chosen the teaching field as the major goal in her life. As a definite step toward this goal, at the completion of the eighth grade, she stood the State teacher's examination and made a second grade license; at the completion of the ninth grade she again took the examination and made a first grade license. But she realized the need of higher education and entered this college by examination the following fall. During the summers at the close of her freshman and sophomore years she taught a summer school near Buena Vista, Georgia. While teaching at this little school she accomplished a significant piece of work by securing the aid of the State Board of Health for a hookworm examination of the students. Fifty students were examined and forty-nine of that group were found to have hookworm and were given the treatment.

Dr. Bolton received her two year normal diploma from this college in June, 1915. Her first full year of experience was in Terrell county where she was in charge of a two-teacher school. For the next two years she was principal of a rural high school. During this principalship she was directly instrumental in promoting a very progressive piece of work, in that she gained the consent of the superintendent for the organization of a Teacher's Association. Through this organization work was given and the first county athletic meet in Terrell county was made possible. Interest was aroused in playground work and interscholastic athletic activities.

Dr. Bolton herself taught many teachers over the county how to instruct the boys and girls in basketball and volleyball. Mr. Fort E. Land, then State Supervisor of Education, made the statement upon visiting her school that he had never seen better classroom teaching done.

At the end of the second year as principal of this school she received offers of positions from two colleges in the state without her having applied. She chose the position as an extension worker from this college. Her work was with Mr. M. L. Duggan, who is now State Superintendent of Schools, for four years in the State Department of Education. She had a great opportunity to give standard tests in representative schools all over the state. In this work she was able to make a definite comparison as to the efficiency of work in the small and large schools. This comparison was among the very first made in the United States.

In 1922, Dr. Payne, President of George Peabody College for Teachers, having investigated her scholarship record at Peabody during two summer sessions, asked her if she would consider accepting a fellowship. Dr. Bolton made application and was one of the first seventeen to be granted fellowships at Peabody College by the General Education Board of New York. (Students

GOOD NEWS FROM ATKINSON COUNTY

Pearson, Ga.,
Oct. 6, 1930

Dear Miss Bolton:

Your two nice letters relative to a G. S. C. W., Club in Atkinson County were received last week. With so many G. S. C. W., girls teaching in Atkinson County we ought to be able to organize a wonderful club. Mrs. Murray has made plans for calling a meeting soon.

Miss Skipper is teaching in Pearson, an independent system, but almost under county control.

I am delighted with my county's educational growth. Things are far from ideal but I can note a remarkable growth during the four years just past. Three years ago we had one small accredited high school with about forty pupils. Last month 250 were enrolled in two accredited high schools and both schools are being promoted from Group II to Group I this year. Aside from the elementary schools operated in the same plants as these two high schools we have three other accredited elementary schools transporting all high school pupils into the accredited high schools. That leaves five small elementary schools outside any consolidated district but I believe they will merge with Pearson before another term. Pearson is now ready and anxious to come under the county system. Every boy and girl in Atkinson County has access to an accredited high school without any cost except books, and we hope next year to operate a bus to Douglas for those desiring junior college work.

I wish I might have you with me for a nice visit to help with plans for a present future. I might add that while accrediting and consolidating, we have also been employing an increase of G. S. C. W. teachers.

With best wishes, I am
Sincerely yours,
Ethel Turner.
County Superintendent of Schools,
Atkinson County.

MATHEMATICS CLUB MEETS

At the first regular meeting of the Mathematics Club, Friday, plans for the year's work were made and regular business attended to. The constitution of the club was read by the president, Miss Norma Dunaway; and an amendment, permitting freshmen to become members, was adopted. Orders for club pins were taken and club stationary discussed. Miss Evelyn Hatfield of Moultrie was selected as publicity chairman.

MISS RUTH G. LOCKMAN SPEAKS TO CABINET AND COUNCIL

On Monday afternoon the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet held its weekly meeting. The budget, totaling $2,113, having been approved by the advisory board of the organization was presented by the finance department to the members of the cabinet and the Sophomore Commission. The budget received the approval of this body and was pronounced the official budget for the coming year.

Miss Ruth G. Lockman, representative secretary of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association, was the guest of the cabinet—Miss Lockman spoke briefly on the students' responsibility in the field of prohibition.

DR. FLOYD CATCHES MATERIAL FOR NEW BOOK.

Research Work Done in France for New French Book That Will Come from Press Soon

On her visit to Europe this summer, Dr. Juanita H. Floyd, teacher of Spanish and French at the Georgia State College for Women, spent a short time in Provins, a small village near Paris, getting details and local color for her new book "Pierrette." This book is from the story of Balzac, the great French novelist.

During the time she remained in Paris, Dr. Floyd was entertained by Marcel Bouteron, who is an authority on Balzac, having devoted his life to the study of this writer and his works. Dr. Floyd visited the museum of Balzac, saw the collection of relics which M. Bouteron has, and ate grapes from a vine planted by Balzac himself.

In the Balzac collection, Dr. Floyd found some of her own works. Her first book was "Women in the Life of Balzac," which has been translated into French. Dr. Floyd has edited another story by Balzac for classroom use, "Le cure de Tours," which was used in a French course at the college last year.

HISTORY CLUB ENTERTAINS MISS MOORHEAD

An outstanding social event held at Milledgeville this week was the reception given in honor of Miss Hilda Moorhead of San Francisco, by the History Club of the Georgia State College for Women at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Beeson, Monday afternoon. The spacious former executive mansion was attractively decorated and punch was served from a flower laden table.

The receiving line was composed of Misses Elizabeth Fort, president of the History Club; Bobbie Burns, chairman of the program committee; Caroline Scott, vice-president; Ruth Brannon, secretary; Ruth Wilson, treasurer; Misses O'Kelly and Helen Greene and Dr. Amanda Johnson, history teachers at the college; and Mrs. J. L. Beeson, wife of the president of the college.

Misses Claire Flanders and Annie Lee Simms presided at the punch bowl and were assisted by other members of the club.

A delightful program of vocal music was rendered by Miss Ila Cade Williams assisted at the piano by Miss Theo Hotch. This was followed by a splendid talk by Miss Moorhead whose subject was why Politics Demand a Woman's Viewpoint.

Afterwards tea was served in the rotunda.

REAST GIVEN IN TERRELL A

Miss Dorothy Dade Fugitt entertained at her room in Terrell A at a lovely feast on Monday, October 13. A delightful course consisting of salad, sandwiches, olives, crackers cake, lemonade, and candy was served.

Those invited were Marian Power, Evelyn Oglesby, Marie Parker, Ida Ellis Greene, Doris Stephens, Emily Sanders, Doodle Conine, Annette Hagan, Mildred Brown, Elizabeth Reeves, Olivia Harris, Nell Carroll, and Bess Harris.

MISS PYLES TO WHISTLE FOR KIWANIS THURSDAY

Miss Therese Pyles was the headliner on the program at the Kiwanis club tonight, Thursday.

Miss Pyles will give a program of music and whistling.

DOCTOR'S ACADEMY MEETS

The Doctor's Academy met Wednesday evening at the Mansion, President J. L. Beeson presiding. The committee on fellowship, consisting of Dr. Frances Daniels, Dr. George Harris Webber, Dr. Thomas B. Meadows, Dr. J. L. Beeson, and Dr. Amanda Johnson recommended that Dr. Euri Belle Bolton, Ph. D. Peabody, and Dr. Beatrice Irene Nevins, Ph. D. University of Wisconsin, be elected active fellows of the Academy; and that Miss Willie David O'Kelly, candidate for the degree of Ph. D. at the University of Wisconsin, and Miss Pattie Mangum Turner, candidate for the degree of docteur at the Sorbonne, France, be allowed the freedom of the Academy as long as they remain bona fide candidates for that degree.

The Academy accepted the report. Drs. Bolton and Nevins were formally received into membership. The consecration Ode, always used at this ceremony, was read by its author, Dr. Daniels.

Members of the Academy discussed favorably the project of establishing a G. S. C. W. fellowship.

The program was opened by Dr. Johnson who talked in general of the early history of Indians on the American continent, and in particular of Indian history within the area now known as Georgia. She declared that the term "Red Man" was amissomer, for the Indian was a brown man and the color of "red" had been suggested by his liberal use of red pigments upon his face. "When the white men came to the continent the Indians had passed into the stage of development known as the stationary, a period that racially follows the nomadic era."

Dr. Daniels continued the discussion with a presentation of the racial and pathological characteristics of the Indians. He displayed many learned volumes that carried colored plates of famous Indian leaders and outstanding Indian types. The probable origin of the Red Man received much of the speaker's attention.

Professor White briefly traced the westward movements of the Five Nations.

Guests of the evening were Mrs. Beeson and her daughter, Mrs. Wright. At the close of the program the company adjourned to the Rotunda where a delicious two-course repast was served by Mrs. Beeson and Dr. Juanita Floyd. Lovely flowers from the Mansion garden added greatly to the pleasure of the guests.

TALKIES AT G. S. C. W.

The "talkies" have literally "talked" themselves into the foreground of our country, our cities, and in fact, our own campus. Last year the college movies were silent ones; this year they are "talkies" and every one is "talking" about them. Before this time we have always enjoyed the movies but now we appreciate them, too. The marked improvement of the picture shows bring constantly to our minds the work Mr. Thaxton and the college have done to give us better entertainment than the girls in preceding years have ever enjoyed.

It is evident to the students that while better pictures are offered and more efficient machinery used to present them, the price of admission has remained low. Only five cents has been added to the entrance fee while the cost of the new equipment to the school is considerable.

Everyone appreciates the efforts that have been made for our better entertainment and the consideration shown the naturally limited funds of college girls.

FRENCH CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

At their second meeting, October 17, the French club elected the following officers: Margaret Durden, president; Mary Anderson, vice-president; Paunce Rigby, secretary; Sara Harvey, treasurer.

The constitution was passed on and it was decided that the name of the club should be Entre Nous and the date of meeting should be every fourth Friday at 5:30 in Dr. McGee's classroom.

Dr. McGee talked to the club about future projects and the Entre Nous planned an entertainment for the near future which will be of major interest to the entire student body.

The president will appoint the chairmen of the social, publicity and program committees and post their names on the French bulletin board.

Among Our Contemporaries

LECTURE SERIES IS FEATURED BY RADIO NETWORK

Professor Stephen P. Duggan, director of the Institute of International Education, is delivering a series of twelve lectures on the general topic "Our Changing World," over a nation-wide hook-up of the Columbia Broadcasting company. The first of these lectures was delivered Thursday evening, October 9, at 6 p. m. eastern standard time. They will be delivered each Thursday through December 18 at the same hour.

"England: The Passing of the Aristocratic Tradition" was the title of his first address. Other lectures will include discussions of France, Germany, Italy, Russia, China, Japan, Turkey, India, and the United States. These countries will be treated from social, political, and economic standpoints.

Due to Professor Duggan's knowledge of international affairs, much interest is expected to be manifested by radio listeners in this series of lectures, which will be concluded by discussions of "The Future of Primitive Peoples" and "The Civilization of Tomorrow," the titles of the two concluding lectures.

NATIONAL STUDENT COUNCIL FEDERATION TO MEET

The National Student Federation, the most prominent student organization in the country, has paid honor to Tech in selecting Atlanta as its host for its annual congress this year. The delegates to this convention are outstanding students selected by leading colleges, and their meeting will be of vast educational interest throughout the country.

Definite plans are tentative to the coming of Ed Murrow, national president of the organization, who will be in Atlanta on November 1st to make final arrangements for the meeting of the Federation, which will be the latter part of December. All meetings are to be held at the Biltmore Hotel, and the dormitories of Agnes Scott and Georgia Tech have been decided upon to house the women and men delegates.

It is only through labor and painstaking effort, by given energy and resolute courage that we move on to better things.—Roosevelt.

Your sole contribution to the sum of things is yourself.—Frank Crane.

UNIQUE FEATURES IN NEW CHURCH

Decidedly unusual features will distinguish Emory's new church and auditorium, the Wilbur Fiske Glenn Memorial, from other Atlanta houses of worship.

The main difference will be a 145-foot tower, in which will be placed a set of chimes. As an added convenience for student productions the large pipe organ is to be installed with a portable console, which can be removed from sight when the whole stage and orchestra pit are needed.

Between the auditorium and the Sunday school unit, which is to be built at a distance from the church building, a large garden space will serve as a courtyard. The Sunday school unit and auditorium will be connected by a covered passageway.

As the pipe organ will be installed so that its tones will flow outward upon the opening of a series of shutters, open-air church services can be held in the courtyard. The music of the organ, through this convenience, will serve for either indoor, or outdoor worship.
